

■ THRIFTY'S NAMED A DOUBLE AWARD WINNER BY LEASEPLAN

Thrifty Car and Van Rental has scooped two prestigious accolades at the LeasePlan supplier conference 2012.

The company has been named Rental Supplier of the Year, having become LeasePlan UK's largest rental supplier in 2011, with a threefold increase in its volumes. Leaseplan named Thrifty as a supplier they can trust, have confidence in and one which always delivers when specific vehicles or bulk deliveries are requested.

The second impressive award of the night was for Overall Supplier of the Year 2011. Thrifty continually demonstrated how getting the basics right coupled with a competitive offering and outstanding customer service, formed the basis of a unprecedented relationship with LeasePlan and its customers.

Neil Dixon, head of procurement and supplier management at LeasePlan, the world's largest leasing company, comments: "Thrifty never over promises and always delivers, they stretch the boundaries and provide great support to our customers through a flexible, open and honest approach to the relationship.

“In choosing our Overall Supplier of the Year award, we asked many people in LeasePlan across operations and commercial and the verdict was unanimous. Thrifty is a supplier which truly represents what we look for and one which has made a significant contribution towards the performance of LeasePlan during 2011. We look forward to further developing the relationship in 2012.”

Caroline Gallagher, director, corporate sales at Thrifty Car and Van Rental, adds:

“To be recognised as Supplier of the Year and Overall Supplier of the Year by LeasePlan is testament to the growing relationship which we have significantly invested in throughout 2011. At Thrifty we pride ourselves on providing an exceptional level of customer service coupled with a flexible offering and we are delighted to have had our efforts recognised in such a prestigious manner.”
